Challenging Convention

Every business needs insurance, but policies saturated with small-print can be a minefield to navigate.

This is why selecting the right broker to act on your behalf is essential to minimising your risk and protecting what you have built.

You need trusted, intelligent advisors who understand your sector and can provide professional, perceptive guidance in straightforward, easy to understand terms. You need people who make the process of buying insurance simple, whilst providing peace of mind that you, your business and your people are adequately protected.

What's more, as your business evolves, you need your insurance cover to evolve with you. Policies which offered satisfactory protection in the past may now leave you exposed, creating areas of risk which could easily be avoided by talking to our highly-trained experts.

Established in 1982, we are an independent, owner-managed business, with a focus on exceeding customer expectation and engendering trust. Our reputation has been built on providing bespoke advice and exceptional service which delivers comprehensive coverage, value for money, and customer confidence.
